

Hipmunk Partners With Frontier Airlines to Provide Travelers with More Airfare Search and Booking Options

In celebration, Hipmunk will give away $500 Frontier Fly Bucks card on Twitter

DENVER – June 6, 2011 – Hipmunk, the travel search site, and Frontier Airlines today announced a partnership that allows Hipmunk users to book Frontier Airlines flights directly through FrontierAirlines.com. Travelers can now search for and find Frontier Airlines flights on Hipmunk.com and through the Hipmunk iPhone application. Once a flight is selected using Hipmunk, the user will be directed to FrontierAirlines.com to book the flight.

“We’re pleased to announce our partnership with Hipmunk, which aligns perfectly with our vision to provide a different and better travel experience,” said James Reichart, Frontier’s vice president of Marketing and Sales. “With this partnership, our guests will have more ways to find our flights and low fares, and be able to conveniently book those flights through Frontier.”

Frontier Airlines and Hipmunk will celebrate the partnership by giving one lucky winner a $500 Fly Bucks gift card to be used for travel on Frontier Airlines. During the week of June 6, Hipmunk will tweet a question via @thehipmunk. To participate, users must respond to the question within 24 hours. Hipmunk and Frontier Airlines will select one winner from those who respond.

“Besides our lovable animals, there is much synergy between Hipmunk and Frontier—such as our dedication to providing users with a fun, agony-free experience,” said Adam Goldstein, CEO of Hipmunk. “We’re excited to give one lucky traveler a $500 Fly Bucks card. Because what’s more fun than pain-free travel? Free travel.”
